Part-time Summer Research Position
at Cambridge Health Alliance

The Division on Addiction at Cambridge Health Alliance, a Harvard Medical School teaching hospital, is seeking individuals who are interested in working part time (20 hours/week) to gain research experience while advancing the Division’s research agenda. The Division’s ongoing research efforts are diverse but share a common focus on contributing to the worldwide understanding of addiction, with the ultimate goal of alleviating the social, medical, and economic burdens caused by addictive behaviors. The Summer Research student will contribute to research related to driving while intoxicated, responsible drinking, and public access to the science of addiction.

Job Description: The Part-time Summer Research Position is a paid position at our offices in Medford, MA. This position is ideal for undergraduate students who:

- Are currently studying at a university or four-year college
- Are passionate about addiction and public health, and seeking new and rigorous opportunities to expand their scientific skill set
- Have demonstrated an interest in research related to addiction and/or related fields of study (e.g., psychology, neuroscience, public health, public policy)
- Have some experience with research methods and/or scientific writing

Requirements: Organized, detail-oriented, focused

To apply: Please send a CV and a writing sample to Dr. Heather Gray, Associate Director of Academic Affairs, Division on Addiction (hgray@challiance.org).

Cambridge Health Alliance is an Equal Employment Opportunity employer, and women and minority candidates are strongly encouraged to apply.
