

A RED SOX FOUNDATION AND
MASSACHUSETTS GENERAL HOSPITAL PROGRAM

Home Base Clinical Research Coordinator Position (Full-Time)

Home Base, a Red Sox Foundation and Massachusetts General Hospital Program, is accepting applications for a Clinical Research Coordinator position. Home Base is dedicated to healing the Invisible Wounds of War for Service Members, Veterans, and their Families through clinical care, wellness-based programs, community outreach, education, and research. For more information about our program, please visit our website at www.homebase.org.

The Clinical Research Coordinator will be responsible for managing outcomes assessments for clinical and educational programming at Home Base, as well as supporting a range of studies focusing on post-traumatic stress disorder, traumatic brain injury, and other service-related disorders frequently found in a veteran population or issues faced by military families. S/he may also be responsible for program oversight and related administrative duties, including grant preparation and hiring.

Duties and responsibilities (may include, but are not limited to):

- Study initiation and maintenance
- Assistance with the development and execution of reportable clinical and educational program outcome measures and associated report preparation
- Data collection, entry, cleaning, preparation, and analysis
- Assistance with presentations, posters, and manuscript preparation
- Preparation and modification of human research committee proposals
- Recruitment, screening, and monitoring of participants involved in study protocols or educational/clinical programming services
- Administrative and managerial tasks involved with the conduct of research

Qualified applicants must have achieved a B.A or B.S. in Psychology or a related field and should have prior research experience. Applicants are advised to apply by February 1, 2018. If the position remains available, we will review applications submitted after that date. This position offers valuable clinical research experience in preparation for applying to medical school or graduate school in clinical psychology, public health, or a related field. Applicants must be available to start in early June.
