

The Eating Disorders Clinic at the Columbia University Medical Center hires annually for a 2-year Research Assistant position, which typically begins in the summer. This position provides an opportunity to become involved in cutting-edge biological and psychological research on eating disorders. Research Assistants have extensive patient contact and receive training in psychological and physical assessments. They also gain a wide range of experiences in how to manage and conduct research studies with clinical populations. This position provides excellent preparation for those considering medical school or psychology PhD programs. If interested in opportunities we may have available, please email a cover letter and curriculum vitae to Loren Gianini, PhD at loren.gianini@nyspi.columbia.edu.