

Hiring a full-time research assistant!

The Center for Psychotherapy Research at the University of Pennsylvania is seeking a full-time Clinical Research Coordinator (CRC). The research assistant will work under Dr. Mary Beth Connolly Gibbons to organize, analyze, and conduct research starting in June 2026.

This position is most suitable for individuals that wish to pursue a PhD in clinical psychology and are passionate about mental health intervention and community research. We aim to provide our assistants with a broad range of responsibilities to expose them to all steps of the research process in preparation for the pursuit of a PhD, such as preparing study materials, conducting data analyses, assisting with manuscript preparation, coordinating and conducting assessments, and more.

Opportunities:

- Coordinate a grant-funded protocol
- Independent work environment
- Attend conferences
- Exposure to clinical populations
- Contribute to grant applications
- Presentations and publications

Qualifications:

- Undergraduate psychology degree
- Interest in pursuing graduate education in clinical psychology
- Able to work independently, be detail-oriented, and communicate efficiently
- Proficient knowledge of Microsoft Excel and Word
- Knowledge of SPSS

Interested?

Please promptly apply using this Redcap survey link, providing a CV and cover letter. Please highlight previous research experiences in your application.

