

Lab Manager at Vanderbilt

Lab Manager

The individual in this part-time position will have primary responsibility for lab management (high-level project management to support the lab infrastructure for multiple ongoing studies), including onboarding and offboarding of research assistants, maintenance of lab space and equipment, financial and budget oversight across projects, project reporting support, and development and curation of laboratory manuals and processes. While interest in science is desirable, no experience in scientific research is required.

To apply, Click Here.