

The Multidisciplinary Student Research Collaborative (MSRC) at the Harvard Radcliffe Institute is looking for an undergraduate (remote) research assistant to support Kaia Stern, HGSE Faculty and James Sturm, cartoonist in leading an advanced workshop titled, “Mass Incarceration, a Graphic Guide.”

Applications are due at 11:59 PM on Friday, March 18th. Please submit a resume and (optional) cover letter on <https://harvard.smapply.org/>.

Major Responsibilities

- Collaborate with program leaders to create a “Mass Incarceration 101” document
- Coordinate the workshop by performing administrative duties and event planning
- Attend the workshop on April 25th and 26th and take notes during the event
- Follow-up with tasks, research, and communication after the event