

Research Assistant position at Washington University in St. Louis

Head Research Lab in the Department of Psychological and Brain Sciences is looking for a full-time research technician position to work on research investigating mediators and moderators of the effects of physical activity on neuronal integrity, Alzheimer disease biomarkers, brain structure and cognitive function in middle-aged to older adults. For more details, please see the job posting.

https://wustl.wd1.myworkdayjobs.com/en-US/External/job/Research-Technician-I---Psychological---Brain-Sciences_JR68891