

Research Assistant at the Columbia Center for Eating Disorders

The Columbia Center for Eating Disorders in Manhattan is looking to hire a new RA to start in January 2023.

The position is a 2-year commitment, and perfect for recent graduates (or those about to graduate) hoping to take a few gap years before applying to medical school or graduate school. It is a full-time, paid position in NYC. It is a research position first and foremost, but has excellent hands-on clinical opportunities, as well. Interested applicants can email julia.ruggiero@nyspi.columbia.edu with a resume/CV.
