

Research Assistant at the Kessler Foundation

Dr. Ekaterina Dobryakova at Kessler Foundation is inviting applicants to work on a project that focuses on examining learning in Parkinson's Disease.

Responsibilities may include the following:

- Recruit/enroll research participants
- Schedule and coordinate study visits
- Interview participants according to research protocols
- Administer neuropsychological test batteries
- Coordinate/monitor MRI data collection
- Conduct and/or assist with data analyses
- Manage electronic and paper databases

Qualifications include the following:

- Bachelor's degree in behavioral or biological sciences or a related discipline
- Previous experience in academic and/or clinical research
- Excellent administrative and problem-solving skills
- Proficient computer skills (especially Word and Excel); and
- Strong communication skills

Candidates must be comfortable working in a medical setting.

Experience/familiarity with data analysis software is a plus.

Qualified candidates should send their CV to edobryakova@kesslerfoundation.org