

Research Assistant in the Valera Lab at Mass General Hospital/Harvard Medical School

The Valera Lab at MGH/HMS is looking for a Sophomore/Junior psychology student interested in gaining experience with clinical research! Our lab studies women who have experienced intimate partner violence and related brain injuries. We are looking for one RA to administer neuropsychological assessments. Some preference towards students interested in pursuing a clinical psychology degree. Commitment is up to 5 hours per week (no more than 2 study visits per week); a 2-year commitment is preferred. You'll be trained and supervised by a doctoral student and the PI of the lab, Eve Valera, PhD. If you're interested in learning more, please email Annie at ajoseph24@mgh.harvard.edu!
