

Volunteer Interns at Massachusetts General Hospital's Center for Anxiety and Traumatic Stress Disorders (CATSD)

Massachusetts General Hospital's Center for Anxiety and Traumatic Stress Disorders (CATSD) is looking for 1–2 volunteer interns to assist with our studies examining assessment of and treatment for PTSD, grief, and anxiety.

We are interested in recruiting individuals who can commit 10-15 hours weekly for the next academic year to help with research tasks and are available to be in-person at least once per week at our office located at 1 Bowdoin Square in the Beacon Hill/Downtown Crossing area. Some study tasks may include phone screening participants to assess their eligibility for studies, assisting with recruitment, and helping perform study procedures.

Some of our active studies include the following:

- Clinical Validation of Samsung Smartwatch
- Mindful Self-Compassion for Veterans with PTSD: A Pilot Study
- Mechanisms Underlying Efficacy of Prolonged Exposure
- A Meaning-Centered Cognitive Behavioral Therapy Group to Enhance Social Connection, Identity Clarity, and Meaningfulness
- Clinical Feasibility of Low Intensity Focused Ultrasound Pulsation for the Treatment of Generalized Anxiety Disorder

If you are interested in joining the team at CATSD or have any questions, please reach out to Christa Bailey at Cebailey@mgh.harvard.edu.
