Dear Psychology Juniors,

We hope your mid-terms are going well. If you find that you are struggling in one of your psychology courses, stop by the undergraduate office in WJH 218 to chat with one of us or email your concentration adviser. We are here to help!

Announcements for This Week:

- Winter Recess Housing Application: first application deadline is tomorrow, Oct. 24. Additional deadlines to apply are Nov. 21 and Dec. 5 with a late fee. Please visit the Office of Student Life website to learn more about how to apply and eligibility. We're sorry we're telling you about the first application deadline so late, but we only recently learned of it.
- MBB Application Deadline is October 31st:
If you plan to apply for the Mind/Brain/Behavior: Cognitive Science track, begin your application soon. All applications should be complete and brought to the Psychology Undergraduate Office in WJH 218 by 5pm on Oct. 31. The MBB application is available on our website. Please read the instructions carefully prior to completing the application, and keep in mind that you need to have a faculty member approve your application and the signature of your concentration adviser prior to handing it in.

Upcoming Events at Office of Career Services of Potential Interest:

For a full list of events happening at OCS, be sure to check their calendars!

- How to Find Jobs & Internships in Education, Oct. 30, 4-5pm, OCS Conference Room
- Medical Humanities Dinner talk with Dr. Steve Schlozman: Zombies, Neuroscience & Psychology, Oct. 30, 6-7:30pm, OCS Reading Room:
Why do we love "slasher" films? Why would anyone love zombies? Why do we enjoy being afraid? It turns out there is a blossoming and surprisingly modern neuroscience and psychology that explains the love among us of the horror genre. Cognitive dissonance, pattern recognition, functional neurobiology, and a propensity towards thrill seeking all play central roles. Join Dr. Schlozman as we meet to discuss why in the world horror fans keep coming back for more. Space is limited. Register through Crimson Careers
