

Postgraduate Associate Position in Psychiatry at the Fineberg Lab at the Yale School of Medicine

The Fineberg Lab (Director: Dr. Sarah Fineberg, MD, PhD) is hiring a post graduate associate (PGA) to work on projects focused on experience, behavior, and neuroscience of borderline personality disorder. Overall, our research focuses on understanding the mechanisms behind disturbances in social cognition and functioning related to psychiatric conditions. See our website for an overview of our team, publications, and current work.

The Postgraduate Associate (PGA) will work closely with Dr. Fineberg and team on multiple ongoing clinical trials and research studies. This position is focused primarily on a new study investigating the nature of impulsivity in adults with BPD over the lifespan. This is an ideal position for highly motivated recent college graduates hoping to gain research and clinical experience for career discernment and/or graduate school preparation.

Please find details about the position, training opportunities, and how to apply here.